Senator Bergantino: She attended the IMPACT conference and was stressed about her breakout session, but thinks it went okay. III. Senator Mohammad: No update. IV. Commissioner of Publicity: She took her o-chem midterm and has another exam today. V. Commissioner of Events: He attended the IMPACT conference and it was a lot of fun. He's been doing a lot of interviews lately. Tomorrow, he has a debate final. VI. Treasurer McLaurin: She's been really stressed and questioning why she decided to take two science courses this semester. She went to the IMPACT conference and it was really great. It was one of the only times she felt as if she was a part of a student community. VII. Vice President Velazquez: She's been eh, the semester is going by really fast and she's trying to keep up. For the first week, |

|    |                       | she doesn't have an exam. Being halfway done is keeping her motivated. VIII. President Sessions: School has been really stressful for him and he's been having connection issues all week, so he wasn't able to attend the IMPACT conference. He got to see some friends for the first time since the pandemic.  |
| 5. | Advisor Report | I. Advisor Archaga: She wants to extend a big thank you to those who attended the IMPACT conference and supported the effort. One of the highlights was lunch and it was very informal, impromptu. One of the students showed their hissing beetle and it was entertaining/educational. Overall, it was a well received event and grateful for all those who participated. They will be hosting more events in the coming weeks. Today is the last day to register to vote. They will be doing a ballot bowl. The community college with the most registered voters will be rewarded. The office of student life, office of equity and inclusion, and honors teamed up for election related events. |

| 7. | Programming | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>I. President Sessions: We have to discuss future events for both this semester and next semester. What do we want to sponsor? Courageous Conversations is something that has always been on the top of the list, but there's more we can do.</li><li>II. Treasurer McLaurin: She asks if he's asking for input for future events.</li><li>III. Commissioner of Events: He has the idea of hosting a game night for LMC students.</li><li>IV. President Sessions: He agrees it's a good idea and we should focus on virtual games. What other ideas do you guys have?</li><li>V. Treasurer McLaurin: She suggests an educational game night that relates to the college in some way. A good incentive would be offering gift cards. Another thing that people were interested in at the IMPACT conference was the talent show.</li><li>VI. Advisor Archaga: She asks Catt, if there's a streaming office or do we need to get the DVD licensing?</li><li>VII. Catt Wood: She replies its possible to stream.</li><li>VIII. Treasurer McLaurin: Jeopardy is a good group game, but she's not sure how it</li></ul> |

Commissioner of Events: There would be tasks for students to do and would have to come to us when they find it. XI. Treasurer McLaurin: Her last idea is to have an event with the purpose of people talking about their struggles. XII. Senator Jackson: Her idea is a stress event, like midterm stress. XIII. Advisor Archaga: She suggests a t shirt contest for LMCAS. She can obtain gift cards and items from the LMC bookstore. XIV. Treasurer McLaurin: SHe feels really strongly for incentives XV. President Sessions: Another idea is Speaker Invitations, since we have the funds to pay a speaker. It would be nice to have an indigieneous speaker and speakers on the topic of racial equality. He's interested in either the first or second week of November for Courageous Conversations. He asks what day would work best? It would most likely be in the afternoons. |

President Sessions: All the senates created an anti-racism resolution and are currently drafting it.</li><li>II. Thyra Cobbs: She is now spearheading a project on black mental health at LMC, DVC, and CCC. She is looking at all the components in the LMC community and how it affects the black community. She is asking for our input. At the town hall panel, they advocated for the teachings of cultural diversity. She highlights the importance of being taught cultural diversity.</li><li>III. Senator Jackson: She suggests that there should be a program to educate those who aren't aware of the history of African Americans.</li></ul> |

|  |  | IV. Advisor Archaga: She suggests anti-bias training V. Thyra Cobbs: She agrees, but also adding a positive connotation to that. What do you think of student teacher relationships? VI. Vice President Velazquez: She suggests weekly emails, because when it comes to office hours sometimes you're not engaged. VII. Thyra Cobbs: She replies with a debriefing to talk about social issues. VIII. Advisor Archaga: She asks if we saw the resolution or if only faculty members saw it. She suggests looking at other colleges/universities to see what they have done. IX. Treasurer McLaurin: She states it's hard to answer Thyra's question, since she's white, but there are moments when she's aware of topics that are deeply racial. She always wants to hear from African American students and people of color. X. |  |  | MI-Social%20Justice-revised%20and%20signed.pdf XI. Thyra Cobbs: She replies to how Liz touches on the topic of white and how that is still important. When it comes to creating safe spaces, they must also know their own history. On the topic of professors, students feel most comfortable when they see representation. The faculty population doesn't represent the student population. XII. Treasurer McLaurin: She replies that white people changed the narrative of history, but it's important we hear the voices of poc. XIII. Vice President Velazquez: She suggests having a meeting with African American people with those in higher professions, to see that representation. Also, having a mentor would be very beneficial. XIV. Thyra Cobbs: She replies that there aren't too many African Americans in the STEM field. XV. Treasurer McLaurin moves to construct an anti-racism resolution |
